PA NEW C OBSERVES

Quite a few people at last night's football game thought that Friday the thirteenth, had something to do with the way the boys were playing. Then to top it off, Washington had a player, whose number was thirteen.

A killing frost descended on the district last evening, and the results were plainly evident this morning. Huge piles of leaves could be seen around the foot of many a tree, as they drifted gently to the ground.

Dear Pa New:
Trees have crested the nest, of birds since the beginning of time, but in Gaston Park large acreage there is a tree that is harboring, purple martins, fox squirrels, flickers, Screech owls, and bees. The odd thing about this is that all these homes are located within the tree's (Continued On Page Two)

Chest Campaigners Find City Responds To Call; Await Report On Monday

The "red eagle" of New Castle's Community Chest spread its wings out over more ground today as nearly 1,000 energetic solicitors, volunteering their time and service, pressed forward their city-wide campaign toward the subscription goal of $70,000.

All day Friday and all day today the campaign forces strove mightily to obtain as much of their goal as possible, and on Sunday the drive will continue without interruption.

Opening with a rousing dinner-ally at the Cathedral on Thursday night, the fund campaign continues until Monday evening before the teams gather to submit their first report. The report dinner will be held in the Cathedral dining room that night at 6:30 o'clock.

Confident that New Castle citizens are responding more readily to the solicitation of workers, Chest leaders today ventured an opinion that by Monday evening the canvassers will have an encouraging total to tally on the immense scoreboard. It was thought a possibility that even the $70,000 mark may be reached.

Visit Of Hartman's Team Recalls Stadium Dedication In 1925

When Joe Hartman led his Grove City High charges on to Taggart field this afternoon, it was no new gridiron to Joe. He dedicated the stadium or at least his team of 1925 dedicated the stadium, if your recollection goes back that far.

The stadium was built in the summer of 1925 and the first game was played in it on Saturday afternoon September 13, 1925. The team opposing New Castle was Mans and New Castle won the game 35-0. The next Saturday, September 26, Crafton was the opponent and Crafton was removed from WPIAL championship threats by a score of 13-0.

Then the dedication. Joe Hartman had been a backfield star for New Castle High and as a courtesy to him the school officials held the dedication exercises on the day Joe's Grove City team played here.

There were flowers, a floral horseshoe for Joe, speeches, George Muse being the speaker of the day. Joe made a pretty speech, the game started and New Castle won by a score of 33-0. Can you recall the lineup of New Castle that day? This is what it was. Dufford, left end, Millson left tackle, Leonard left guard, Robinson, center, Ulrich right guard, Patton, right tackle, Sumner right end, day captain and quarterback, Klaher, left half, Bailey right half and Peg Thomas fullback.

Today Joe Hartman brings his Grove City team to New Castle to play Union Township.

(International News Service)
LEAVENWORTH, Kan., Oct. 14.—George "Machine Gun" Kelly, kidnaper, bandit and general desperado began serving a life sentence today in the federal penitentiary here for his part in the abduction of Charles F. Urschel, Oklahoma oil millionaire.

A heavy guard convoyed Kelly here in an armored railroad baggage coach from Oklahoma City last night. Shortly before midnight a switch engine shunted the moving fortress inside the big walls of the main prison. The prison doors promptly closed behind the man who was accredited with carrying off a lurid career of crime by kidnapping Urschel at the point of a machine gun.

As the prison walls loomed in sight Kelly kept up his smiling confident attitude, loudly bragging to the federal officers that they would not keep him within the penitentiary until Christmas.

How World Capitals Look At German Bolt

(International News Service)
PARIS, Oct. 14.—"By her withdrawal from the League of Nations Germany stands unveiled."

This was the declaration made of a high official of the French government today on receipt of news that Germany had cut loose from Geneva in protest against the world's refusal to grant her immediate equality of arms.

The French government, it was learned on good authority, firmly believes that Germany has been deliberately withdrawing from the disarmament conference to avoid the embarrassment of supervision, inspection and control.

Less reserved quarters close to the government predicted that if Germany refuses to disarm the Rhineland, France will "unhesitatingly enter the territory and strip it of armaments under the sanctions provided for in the Versailles treaty."

Concern At Washington.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—Germany's decision to bolt the League of Nations struck the state department today like a thunderclap. Expressions of anxiety and surprise spread across the faces of high state department officials as they read the press reports of the Hitler government's decision to bolt the league because of the united front against Germany's demand for the right to re-arm.

Hopes were expressed that Geneva might be induced to reconsider its action before the date for convening of the disarmament conference actually arrives.

Staggered British.
LONDON, Oct. 14.—Germany's bolt from the League of Nations, involving withdrawal from the disarmament conference, staggered British government circles this afternoon.

At the time news of the decision was received from Berlin, government officials were just leaving for their customary week-end vacation, congratulating themselves that Foreign Secretary Sir John Simon's speech at Geneva would probably save the conference from disaster.

WILL ROGERS says:

(Special To The News)
BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Oct. 14.—It must be terribly discouraging to Mr. Roosevelt after eight months of hard work to try to get people a job, to have 'em strike the minute they get it.

It looks like these dissatisfied groups, instead of striking, should keep on working and lay their complaints before the government, with the proviso that if it's settled in their favor, they get the extra back pay.

Labor has seen enough of Roosevelt to know he is in sympathy with 'em, and that in a government arbitration they will get a square deal. Help your company to start making some money and, when they do, Roosevelt will see that you get a fair part of it.

If American labor would work while their case is being arbitrated, instead of striking, they would have the gratitude of our president and the sympathy of everybody.

Yours,
Will Rogers

GERMAN BOLT IS DUE TO REFUSAL OF ARMS EQUALITY

German Delegates Withdraw From Disarmament Conference And An- nounce Withdrawal From League. Geneva Conference Is Stunned — Results Of Action May Have World- wide Reaction

(International News Service)
In protesting against the world's refusal to grant her immediate arms equality, Germany today severed relations and quit the disarmament conference.

The Hitler government dissolved the Reichstag and all state diets, calling a national plebiscite for November 12 to enable the people of the Reich to voice their support of the cabinet's precipitate action.

These steps were taken after all leading nations represented at Geneva approved a British plan for an eight year period of gradual disarmament, at the end of which Germany would be allowed defensive equality with the rest of the world.

Decision Rocks World

German's flat rejection of this proposal and her decision to stand alone rocked the world.

Geneva was stunned. France foresaw an immediate armament race and charged unofficially that Germany had taken this step because she is already re-arming and fears international inspection and control.

The action caused consternation in London and in Washington, while other capitals expressed gravest anxiety over the future.

Union Township School Proposal Is Considered

General approval of the idea of getting Federal funds for the building of new school rooms in Union Township was given Friday night when the Union Township school board held a public meeting. A crowd of taxpayers was present and many expressions of approval were heard.

Lewis Rudesill, the president of the board called the meeting to order and explained its purpose. He then called upon John W. Pattison, president of the Tax Justice League.

Mr. Pattison explained that eight or ten additional rooms were needed on the Union Township consolidated building and four rooms on the Sunny Avenue building. Mr. Pattison favored the proposal and from the tone of the remarks heard the majority of those present also favored it. The cost is estimated at between $60,000 and $75,000.

It is likely that the school board will take definite action next week towards getting some Federal grants for the proposed new rooms.

High Explosive Caused Tragedy On Board Plane

Laboratory Examination Of Wreckage Of Air Liner Results In Investigation

FEDERAL AGENTS WORKING ON CASE

Seven Were Killed Recently Near Chesterton, Indiana, In Plunge Of Plane

(International News Service) CHICAGO, Oct. 14.—Laboratory tests showing that high explosives literally blew apart the United Air Liner last Tuesday night in midair near Chesterton, Ind., killing seven persons, sent department of justice agents today on a search for instigators of a suspected plot.

Although no motive could be learned, federal agents were investigating the preparation and servicing of the plane for its flight which began at Newark, N. J., with one stopover at Cleveland, O.

D. B. Colyer, vice president of the air line, definitely announced that high explosives placed either in the lavatory compartment of the twin-motored plane or in the adjacent baggage space, blew the ship apart in flight.

Under Microscope

His statement was based on the report of Dr. C. W. Muehlenberger, assistant director of the Northwestern university crime detection laboratory who subjected particles of cloth and metal found in the debris to microscopic examination.

Four exhibits, a blanket riddled with holes, pieces of a bottle and parts of the burned fuselage and unburned tail surfaces of the ship, were submitted for chemical analysis by Dr. Muehlenberger. His report was submitted to the department of justice, both of which had previously begun investigations.

"The passenger section and the rear section were severed by the explosion," Colyer declared. "Consolidation of all available evidence surrounding the accident leads to the conclusion that it was caused by a high explosive, presumably located in the area of the cargo space and toilet section aft of the passenger cabin and ahead of the rear section."

Four passengers, two pilots and the stewardess were killed in the crash.

Although few people will admit that they are superstitious, there still appear to be some people who deem discretion the better part of valor in tempting fate. Cupid is among the number.

Pacific coast, attached to the U. S. S. Oklahoma. She declined today to discuss the case.

Mrs. Massie's socially prominent mother, Mrs. Granville Fortescue, her husband, and two enlisted men of the navy, E. L. Lord and Albert Jones, were tried on a charge of murder in Honolulu following an attack on Mrs. Massie by a group of natives.

They were convicted, but sentence was commuted within an hour after the verdict was rendered. The trial, with Clarence Darrow defending the accused, was sensational and centered world-wide attention upon conditions in Hawaii.

Victim Of Attack

Mrs. Massie was attacked by one Kahahawai and four other natives while on her way home from a Honolulu night club where with her husband and a party of friends she had been dining.

Details of the attack upon the young navy officer's wife, then not 21 years of age, stirred the country. Efforts of her family to obtain justice against the native in Honolulu courts failed.

Kahahawai, identified by Mrs. Massie as the leader of the gang who had attacked her, was abducted from the steps of the "Ball of the Chiefs." Two hours later his sheeted body was found in a sedan overturned 15 miles from the town as it sped toward the ocean.

In the sedan were Mrs. Fortescue, Lieut. Massie, and Lord Jones, the other enlisted man in the case, was later arrested as he stood guard over the home of Mrs. Massie.

armament conference struck Geneva with the force of a bombshell this afternoon.

It came just half an hour after the steering committee had concluded its final session before the conference is scheduled to assemble on Monday.

The general view had been that the door was open for a compromise enabling Germany to accept the allied thesis of an eight-year gradual disarmament period.

Much work was done during the night in an effort to find conciliatory phraseology which would forestall a German bolt, and the delegates had lulled themselves into the belief such a wording had been found.

Grave Concern At Rome

ROME, Oct. 14.—Germany's withdrawal from Geneva created an extremely grave impression in Italian circles today and the future was regarded with anxiety.

The withdrawal was particularly regretted as it was immediately realized recent Italian attempts to act as a friendly go-between in the conflict between Germany and the former allies had been useless.

The consensus of Italian opinion was that Germany, by her action, has jeopardized the good will and friendship of the world.

Wind Storm Is Encountered By Airship, Progress Toward Coast Retarded

(International News Service)

TUCSON, Ariz., Oct. 14.—A windstorm over the same portion of southern New Mexico and southern Arizona where the Graf Zeppelin and the ill-fated Akron were buffeted on their transcontinental trips several years ago today retarded the westward speed of the mighty dirigible Macon.

The Macon was sweeping across the narrow neck of New Mexico between Texas and Arizona until it encountered the wind, west of Lordsburg, N. M., according to the United States radio station at the Tucson airport.

The progress of the dirigible towards its permanent base at Sunnyvale, Cal., has been "greatly retarded," the radio station reported. No alarm was felt, however.

FAMILY CASH

FORTY-ONE per cent of the wealth of the United States is in the hands of women, financial statisticians estimate. This includes real estate, stocks, bonds and cash in bank. That places womanhood as an important "prospect" for banks and investment brokers.

Theoretically, then, 59 per cent of the wealth is owned by men. Theoretically it is used adversely, for it pay checks issued to husbands and bank accounts in their names were credited to the wives who really control them, the percentages would be reversed.

Poor man! He is in a sorrier condition than the figures indicate, disconcerting though they are. How far off is the time when husbands will be arguing indignantly with their wives for a generous allowance, instead of doling money out to their wives in grudging spirit.

Uxorial reaction to this possibility is that it would serve the "old tightwads" good. The housewife's chronic complaint is that men will never learn that it takes more than cigar money to operate the house.

No doubt modern conditions have created new causes for domestic strife and divorces, but the good old reliable homewrecker is the inadequate domestic budget and the "provider" who demands choice cuts on pin money.

RECALL OF THE FOURTH LIBERTY LOAN

One must go back to the prosperity days of Secretary Mellon's regime to remember the last previous call of Liberty bond issues. The Third Loan matured in 1927, and about that same time the option for the early-date call of the Second Loan was exercised. It was prudent management; for the government was able then to borrow at lower than war-time rates. The refinancing effected economies at a time when living costs were advancing.

Then came the downward swing. Fortunately the national credit remained stable while other structures were toppling. In fact, Uncle Sam's financial position continued to enable him to obtain money at lower rates. Last August a big flotation at three per cent to run eight years was oversubscribed. Now comes notice that certain bonds of the Fourth Loan will mature in April, 1934. All can be exchanged for new issues to bear 3 1/2 per cent after October, 1934, and to bear 4 1/2 until that time. Those who buy for cash must pay 10 1/2, the first instance in years that federal securities have been offered in excess of par.

These circumstances are gratifying. To the war-time patriots who retained their holdings, as well as to those shrewd investors who bought Liberties in 1920-22, in some instances as low as 85, the government grants more than originally promised: At the same time it is so confident of a volume response that it is asking a premium, as any private corporation would do. Meanwhile the general securities markets should be greatly strengthened by this refunding of war loans, the United States being practically the last nation to complete it.

REGARDING FABULOUS FILM SALARIES

There will be much interest, and some amusement, over the announcement that President Roosevelt has suggested to NRA officials and motion picture magnates, now engaged in trying to draw up a code for the industry, that it would be a good time to slash the fabulous salaries of stars, executives and directors in filmdoms. Evidently the head of the nation has had the courage to touch upon a matter which the big men in Hollywood would rather have undisturbed.

It is obviously impossible to fix a minimum and maximum salary for actors, but it is evident that some of the top prices paid highly exploited stars will have to be scaled down if the industry is not to go on the rocks. Some of the men and women of the profession who could hardly make a living on the legitimate stage are drawing down pay checks in Hollywood that would have caused old-timers like Booth and Barrett to gasp for breath. Five thousand dollars a week has been paid to a number of stars. What makes this believable is the further statement that they are paid only while they are actually at work. It is stated that there are certain directors and executives who get far in excess of $100,000 a year. The President of the United States receives a salary of $75,000 per annum, but with the 15 per cent cut this is now $63,750. The contrast speaks for itself.

President Roosevelt has been quoted as saying that these excessive film salaries constitute "unconscionable" remuneration, and that if not remedied may ruin the industry. The grotesque part of it is that even the lesser performers—some whose chief claim to glory is the accuracy with which they can hurl custard pies—are paid more than Justices of the Supreme Court of the United States. Is it any wonder that they lose their heads, indulge in wild luxury, and marry and divorce at will? The very nature of the business makes this sort of thing possible. If a picture is a success there is no end to the amount of money it may bring to the producer. On the legitimate stage if a play makes a hit, and it is possible to send out a second or third company, the managers feel that they are on the road to wealth. But in the movies a film that appeals to the public may be showing at hundreds of houses throughout the country on the same night. The business is a sort of gamble. A producer may make a fortune on one picture and go broke on another.

Some will wonder what the government has to do with the business, but at this time everybody's business seems to be the business of Uncle Samuel. We may be dubious about other lines of activity, but if the federal authorities can introduce sanity into the film industry they will accomplish the seemingly impossible.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

"THAT CAT GETS OUT"

Old cat, prowling around my chair, fusing and meowing and demanding I let you out, you remind me of a poem. You never read that poem, but it's about you and all those other cats that lived in houses. It's about a cat just like you and lived in Ben King's home. . . . You never knew Ben King, either. Neither did I. He died before I was born. But he knew cats, and I think you ought to know his poem. . . . If you'll just keep still for a minute I'll read it to you, and you needn't look so bored. It's called "THAT CAT."

The cat that comes to my window sill
When the moon looks cold and the night is still—
He comes in a frenzied state, alone,
With a tail that stands like a pine tree cone.
And says: "I have finished my evening lark,
And I think I can hear a hound dog bark.
My whiskers are froze 'nd stuck to my chin.
I do wish you'd git up and let me in."

The cat gets in.

But if, in the solitude of the night
He doesn't appear to be feeling right,
And rises and stretches and seeks the floor,
And some remote corner he would explore,
And doesn't feel satisfied just because
There's no good spot for to sharpen his claws,
And meows and canters uneasy about,
Beyond the least shadow of any doubt
That cat gets out.

And so do you. When you want to get in you climb up the vine on the side of the house and sit on the window sill and yow don't say a word, but you make it so uncomfortable that we let you in. . . . And when you want to get out you walk all around and go to the door and sit on chairs forbidden to you and flop down by the fire and get up again and meow so plaintive-like that sooner or later one of us rises and escorts you to the door and lets you out.

Just as I'm about to do now. . . .
Old Cat, good night!

MARRIAGE RELATION COMES FIRST

When people marry they should expect to give preference, above all others, to those to whom they are matrimonially bound.

Not that near relatives should not have some consideration; but when it comes to making a choice as to who shall be shown favors, the husband or the wife comes first every time.

It is unfortunate that any necessity to make such a choice should arise.

In-laws cannot expect to have the same claim upon son, daughter, sister or brother that they had before the person was married.

Undoubtedly a husband or a wife has more claim than any blood relation.

Marriages rituals so intended it, and so specify.

Strained marital relations result often when there is too active interference of in-laws with the affairs of married couples.

Marriage creates a new family, a new starting point for the two in the alliance.

They are to carve a new course, and can do it more amicably if there is no outside suggestion of interference.

Don't be guilty of trying to influence either side in matters that belong strictly to the couple involved, for it is not your business, remember.

INDIFFERENCE

He planted roses in the spring
And watched them come to blossoming.

Much as a maiden's lovely smile
Thrilled his beauty charmed him for awhile.

But June went and came the days
Of summer with the world ablaze

And to the casual bloom or two
Indifferent and aloof he grew.

The perfect blooms of June he'd known
And claimed their beauty for his own.

But tiring stem and thinning leaf
Tested his love and proved it brief.

Had he but walked the plot around
Weeds and wild shots his eyes had found.

And just a little thought and care
Had kept his roses thriving there.

Indifference and neglect remain
Great fountain heads of human pain.

'Tis well enough in days of spring
To claim the first fresh blossoming,
But hearts and roses both require
Devotion as they age and die.

All that is joyous swiftly goes
To weeds when man is indifferent grows.

President Roosevelt's address before the Catholic Charities in New York is characterized by the press as both timely and inspiring. The Chief Executive's call for spiritual courage met with wide approval, as did his warning that the way out of the depression will be hard and long. Many papers feel that particular emphasis should be placed upon the President's appeal to "neighbors" to supplement federal relief, lest private charity be regarded as unnecessary in view of governmental activity.

The SCRANTON TIMES believes that the President not only caught the spirit of the conference but that he "added something to that spirit." "While emphasizing the duty of the government to care for the needy, unemployed and dependent, he, at the same time made it plain," continues this paper, "that religious, private and community charities and philanthropies must be carried on."

That "spiritual values count in the long run more than material value" is regarded by the UNION-TOWN HERALD as "the essential truth of the gathering" and one which "no group and no community can afford to ignore in these difficult hours." The CINCINNATI STAR remarks that these "uplifting thoughts" are made more effective "because Mr. Roosevelt has so thoroughly demonstrated his own firm purpose to serve as we must serve. Better Americans all must be," adds the same paper, "if we can catch this feeling for national unity; if we can avoid the creation of rivalries and bitterness of

Second-Year Students Fly Flag From Old Main Memorial

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Oct. 14.—Members of the sophomore class at Westminster College were one jump ahead of the freshman today. The second-year students placed a class flag on the flagpole on Old Main Memorial late Thursday night, greased the pole, and knotted the rope. Efforts of the freshman to get the flag down yesterday proved fruitless.

An upshot of the frosh failure to remove the flag was a tussle between men of the two lower classes on the campus yesterday afternoon, resulting in the sophomores stealing a freshman flag which was intended to replace the soph banner. While many students left early last evening for the Geneva game it is thought that the fight between the two classes will be extended to this afternoon.

TALE OF WOE

"Things are certainly bad," said Pat, with a sad shake of his head. "Take Mike, for instance. It's one endless tale of woe with him these days."

Casey nodded sympathetically. "Sorry to hear it, Pat," he said. "I suppose he's out of work?"

"No," said Pat, with a sly wink; "he drives a horse and cart."

Dear Brother Lion:
On Tuesday we will have as our guest and speaker Guy H. Nickeson, assistant superintendent of the Pittsburgh branch of the Pennsylvania Blind association.

He will tell us of the school and work and also about the blind relief amendment which we will vote for in November.

It is not often we hear anyone who is in close touch with blind work. Let us have a good attendance.

Very truly yours,
THOMAS I. ELLIOTT,
Secretary.

Free Classes To Be Offered By Local Y. W.

Seven Or Eight Will Be Organized As Soon As Instructors Are Secured

TYPE OF CLASSES DECIDED BY POLL

Selecting the classes in which the young women of the community have shown themselves to be most interested, the Educational Committee of the Y. W. C. A. met on Friday and made tentative plans for their inauguration. Where the interests of the local girls lie was determined by a recent city-wide poll. Free classes which will be organized by the "Y" in the near future are:

Remodeling of Clothes. This will be an afternoon class, meeting weekly, on either Tuesday or Thursday. Cooking. This will include other studies that will prepare the girls for home-making. It will probably be conducted on Tuesday or Thursday afternoons.

Shorthand. Girls enrolled will be those who have studied shorthand but have not had the opportunity to keep up on their speed and need the practice. Class will be every Tuesday night from 7 to 8 o'clock.

Modern Poetry and Fiction. Other modern books will also be taken up

In this course. Will probably be evening class and conducted on Tuesday.

Dramatics. Will be on Wednesday or Thursday nights. Miss Ruth Lewis, of the Benjamin Franklin junior high school faculty, will be teacher.

Mandolin Club. Probably on Tuesday evenings. Mrs. S. J. Calahan, instructor. Mandolin, guitar, ukulele and steel guitar will be studied.

Bible. This class will be mainly for teachers' training. International Sunday school lessons will be taken up.

In addition to these mentioned above a class of study in homemaking for girls seeking domestic employment is being contemplated for organization by the Friendly Service Committee, comprised of Miss Ethel Moore, Mrs. Earl Douglas, Mrs. Mont Allen, Mrs. James Chambers and Miss Mary Allen. The course will be of very practical work such as cooking, setting tables, answering telephone and door, and concluding with practice work in private homes.

Membership in any of the classes is not confined to girls who are unemployed but is confined to those who are not going to school. Married women may join if they so wish.

Teachers have not been secured for all the classes as yet. Anyone willing to lend their teaching services are asked to call Mrs. J. Glenn Perry, Mrs. O. P. Brown, Mrs. James McNeil, or Mrs. A. B. Pankhauser.

Young women of the city wishing to attend the classes are told to call the Y. W. C. A. A complete schedule of the day, hour and teacher of each class will be published in The News at a later date.

Plane Lands On Rooftop And Explodes

(BULLETIN)

(International News Service) WILMINGTON, Del., Oct. 14.—Disabled when it collided with another plane in mid-air while maneuvering at the Junior league air meet here today, an airplane crashed to the roof of two houses in the center of the city here today. The houses were set afire when the gas tanks exploded.

The pilot, Roy Butterfing of Oklahoma City, bailed out and landed safely about three blocks away. A half dozen spectators were hurt in the crash to escape the shower of flaming gasoline in the explosion.

The blast blew four policemen off the roof of one of the houses where they had gone to investigate. They were taken to the hospital for observation. None was reported seriously hurt.

Spectators said a wing was torn from Hunt's plane as it rolled over in the air suddenly and collided with a smaller craft piloted by Len Povey. Hunt's craft plunged dizzily down as he leaped out with his parachute.

Povey managed to pilot his craft safely back to the Bellanca airport, about three miles away where the meet was being held.

A crowd of several hundred persons gathered at the scene when the plane crashed, unaware of the danger of the exploding gasoline tanks.

None of the residents of the houses was hurt. The plane fell across the rear portions of the roofs.

Bell Accident

Mae Tyler, widow of the late Rev. Frank Tyler, has filed a suit at the prothonotary's office against J. W. Jenkins for $20,818.50 as a result of an automobile accident in which an employee of Jenkins figured.

It is set forth that Curtis Bell was employed by Jenkins at his gasoline station on West Washington street in the capacity of a general handy man. Bell washed cars and did errands. It is claimed that on July 15, 1933, M. R. Hornung, who lived on the South Side, came to the Jenkins station to have his car washed. Bell accompanied him to his home and was driving the car back when he struck Rev. Tyler, who died from his injuries.

It is alleged that Bell was in the regular course of his employment at the time of the accident, and that his employer is responsible. The damage asked is $20,000. The $818.50 is for funeral and other expenses, and a monument.

Bell was tried in the September term of court and was found guilty of involuntary manslaughter. He is now serving a term in the Allegheny county workhouse.

Unlucky Friday For This Pigeon

Yesterday was an unlucky Friday for the Thirteenth for one of the pigeons owned by the Kubinski family of North Liberty street, but it will never see another.

The victim of an unusual accident the pigeon met death at about noon yesterday.

Perhaps it was just a miscalculation in distance, perhaps the bird was confused by seeing a lineman of the telephone company perched high up on the top of the pole, or perhaps it was because of the day being Friday the Thirteenth. Anyway, the bird hit a wire while traveling full speed, and did a "flying leap" to the sidewalk below.

Vice President Of United Miners Asks Operators To Lay Cards On Table

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Oct. 14.—Openly resentful over the prolonged dispute with captive mine operators, Philip Murray international vice president of the United Mine Workers of America today demanded the operators lay all their cards on the table and face a showdown.

In a letter to Thomas Moses president of the H. C. Frick Coke Company, largest of the operators producing coal for the exclusive consumption of parent steel companies, Murray summed up his case with one succinct sentence:

"You are not negotiating." Murray further declared Moses alleged "sparring on technicalities.... Is neither collective bargaining nor is it remotely in compliance with your repeated assurance to the president that you are moving with dispatch in an earnest endeavor, in good faith, to settle these difficult problems.

Coincident with this letter, Murray made public a letter to Moses dated Thursday—when their last conference on union recognition was held—and Moses' letter in reply dated yesterday.

Immediately after the battle, a committee of strikers telegraphed Gov. H. G. Kump demanding that he withdraw the state officers. They declared they will file charges with the governor that the police were "beating innocent citizens," and would include evidence that a woman and a seven-year-old child had been beaten during the clashes.

KATHRYN KELLY BIDS HUSBAND FINAL GOOD-BYE

Kidnaping Pair To Be Separated

Kelly In Leavenworth And Wife Will Go To Another Prison

MRS. KELLY BEGINS TO REALIZE FATE

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Oct. 14.—Kathryn Kelly, red-haired wife of George ("Machine Gun") Kelly, was feeling pretty "low" in her cell in the county jail today. She is ill and her nerves are in bad shape. Her "man" had gone. It was "good-bye forever" as far as she was concerned when he left for the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, to serve the rest of his natural life for the $200,000 kidnaping of Charles F. Urschel.

Parting Words.
"Be a good boy, George," were her parting words to the man she blames for her present plight. Soon she will go to a federal penitentiary herself, which one she does not know.

She had just about lost all of her characteristic cheerfulness today as she pondered the outlook. The reaction from her recent trial had set in and she was moody and silent. Dr. C. E. Clymer, federal physician, called at the jail at her request and treated her for a cold in the chest.

Kathryn professes not to be at all worried about herself. Her chief concern is about her mother, Mrs. Ora Shannon, and her step-father, R. G. ("Boss") Shannon—"Daddy" she calls him.

Family To Serve Life.
"If they would only tell me that mother and I would go to the same penitentiary I would be perfectly satisfied," she reiterated. But they won't tell her that. They have allowed her to see her mother but that is the only "break" she has so far received.

Kathryn, her mother and her "daddy" all must serve life terms in federal penitentiaries for their part in the Urschel abduction conspiracy. They are all that is left of the Urschel kidnaping ring in the county jail.

Armon Shannon, "Boss" Shannon's 22-year-old son, whose ten-year sentence was suspended by Federal Edgar S. Vaughn, is at liberty and back on his farm in Texas. Before he left, Urschel called him to his office and gave him a nice fatherly talk which Armon said he appreciated and will try to live up to. "Boss" Shannon will be given temporary freedom to wind up his business affairs as soon as his $10,000 bond is returned from Texas and approved.

Teachers Visit Slippery Rock

City And County Teachers Are Attending Regional Conference Today

New Castle is almost as bare of school teachers today, as last spring's birds' nests are of eggs because of the Regional Conference and Training School Demonstration taking place at Slippery Rock today.

The conference got under way last evening, with a general session in the chapel of the State Teachers College which was presided over by Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent of the local schools, Dr. Ben Graham of Pittsburgh, being the speaker.

Starting at 9 o'clock this morning, training school demonstrations in the elementary grades, with special Junior high school demonstrations, were held lasting until 3:30.

In addition, there was also a general session, presided over by County Superintendent of Schools John C. Syling which was also addressed by Dr. Graham.

The teachers attending the conference are being given credit for attending an institute session as substitute for the former institute week, eliminated by the legislative

INDUSTRY HERE SPURS CAMPAIGN IN CHEST BEHALF

Report 60 Per Cent Of Plant Workers Seen By Noon—Rowland Pleased

A noon-hour check of teams in the important industrial division of the Community Chest revealed that 60 per cent of the employees in the city's industrial plants had been solicited already, Chairman R. W. "Cap" Rowland, leading the division, announced early this afternoon.

Mr. Rowland's figures created a source of new encouragement for the entire chest organization and led the industrial division workers to determine to have enrolled at least 75 or 80 per cent of the employees by Monday evening.

Drive In All Plants.
Speaking of the concentrated campaign now under way in 20 local plants, where approximately 8,500 employees draw a payroll of approximately a million dollars a month, Chairman Rowland said:

"There's one thought I want to leave with the committees in the industrial plants, and that is the necessity for having all plant chairmen and members of the plant committees present for the report meeting on Monday night."

"I found in our check at noon that many of the larger plants have already completed their solicitation and that everyone in those plants made a subscription to the fund. On Monday evening we will announce the plants where employees have subscribed 100 per cent, and I feel that the industrial division's report will be very edifying."

"The members of the soliciting committee of the industrial plants are subscribing through their own plants and these totals, omitted in the Thursday night report, will be announced in the reports to be submitted on Monday."

Chairman Rowland said that practically all the plant subscriptions will be included in Monday's report. The Monday night dinner opens at 6:30 o'clock.

Residents Need To Co-operate Is Chief's Assertion

Ask Strangers For Permit To Sell Or Solicit In Home Is Advice

Police department of the city is making every possible effort to prevent the people of this city from being victimized by persons selling various articles or seeking admission for the purpose of robbery on the assumption that they are inspectors or investigators. It was stated this morning by Chief of Police John F. Haven.

But the people are not giving their fullest co-operation and for that reason, principally, there are those who are still being victimized. If they do not ask these salesmen or inspectors for their identification cards, where they are not known to them, the police authorities feel that it is the fault of the people themselves and that there is not much chance for the police to correct the situation.

Every person selling, offering for sale or soliciting orders for any kind of an article, is required under the laws of this city to register with the police department and when found worthy is granted permission to work here and is also presented with a registration card by the police department, which makes it possible for the householder to determine who and what every person calling at their home may be doing.

In every instance, the householder should inquire of the person soliciting at their door or seeking entrance on the basis of being an inspector, for their identification card and if they are unable to produce the same should at once call No. 8 and advise the police, who will gladly take up the investigation. This does not apply to farmers coming in from the country with farm products as no license fee or registration is required of them, but where the person soliciting for the sale of farm products and merchandise is in a car with a strange license plate, that is the time of all times that the police should be called and given a chance to investigate.

Anderson Trio Create Sensation

When one thinks of a cowbell he does not consider it a musical instrument, but to transform cowbells into melodious musical instruments is an accomplishment which has been acquired by the Anderson Trio, Peggy, Marie and Dolly, and their playing of hymns upon these bells is so impressive and devout that one does not forget for a long time.

They are playing at the Gospel Tabernacle, South Mill and Division streets, in connection with the evangelistic services being conducted by Jackie Burris, and they use a xylophone, vibraphone, piano, whiskey bottle and many other novel instruments during their music period with solos, duets and trios of song.

The coal business is all settled except the bill, and the public will settle that.

MYSTERY OF LIGHT IN HOUSE SOLVED

(International News Service) PAWTUCKET, R. I.—The "mystery of the light in the locked house" at the home of Edward T. Hogan, lawyer, on vacation, has been solved. A police inspector called Hogan on the long distance telephone and was informed that the light in the front room has a loose connection and when heavy trucks rumble by the house, it flicks on.

Komic-Kneram Score Points In Class AA Battle

Komic Plunges Ball Over From 3-Yard Line In First Period

Nickum Passes To Kneram For 45 Yards And Touchdown In Final Quarter

It was Friday the Thirteenth and New Castle High School "Red Hurricane" football team in keeping with the spirit of the day rolled up a 13 to 0 score on a hard fighting Washington High football team at Taggart Field last night. Another slap in the face of superstition was the 13 first downs recorded by the Bridenbaughmen against two for the Little Presidents.

New Castle's second, Class AA conference victory is in "The Bag". The game was one of the best of the year. For two periods New Castle failed to score. Captain Walter Komic plunged the ball over from the 3-yard mark in the first period, and in the middle of the fourth period Charles "Whitey" Nickum tossed a forward pass of about 45 yards into the arms of George "Red" Kneram standing near the goal line. Kneram scored easily.

The night was ideal for football except that a heavy fog came up during the final period of the game and made it hard to distinguish the players. A crowd that numbered about 3,500 witnessed the game.

Komic Scores Touchdown Washington high proved a big surprise against the "Red Hurricane" and it certainly looked for a while as if those six points scored by Captain Walter Komic would have to suffice. It was apparent that Washington high had been priming for the New Castle game for sometime. They took advantage of every opportunity. There was many fumbles in the game on both sides. The ball was wet and slippery from the dew on the grass. It was hard to handle as evidenced by the amount of times that it got away from the backfield men. Another trick that Washington tried successfully was the quick kick and several times they just about caught the New Castle safety man sleeping.

Play Is Fast The first period found the two teams tearing at each other for dear life. New Castle failed to gain much ground in the first few minutes and resorted to punting. The break that gave New Castle its first touchdown came in the final minutes of the first period.

Bar of Washington high fumbled Komic kicked back to Washington. After another exchange of punts New Castle tried a pass with Nickum throwing the ball. Lewis of Washington grabbed the pass out of the air.

At this point in the game Washington came to life and started a parade to the shadows of the goal line that did not stop until the 5-yard mark was reached. During this interim Barr and Campbell did a lot of fine ball totting for the Little Presidents, ripping off gain after gain and New Castle couldn't apparently find a way to stop the Blue and White backfield axes. A stubborn New Castle front wall supported by Raskowski, the Shelloys and Howley stopped the Washington offensive drive on three downs. Giles then elected to try for a touchdown via a forward pass to Sorice on the fourth down, but the ball was grounded back of the goal line. It became New Castle's ball on their own 20-yard line. It was a fine piece of resistance by the New Castle linemen.

The New Castle team started a march down the field with Komic and Nickum tearing off nice gains. The first half ended with New Castle down on the Washington 24-yard line.

Visitors Tighten Up The New Castle team did not function very well in the third period. If anything the Washington team had the edge in the third stanza. It was simply a case of getting the ball, trying to gain, finding it too tough and then punting. Washington high with Campbell doing a lot of quick kicking was playing for a "break" but it never came.

New Castle at one time in the period had the ball on the Washington 15-yard line, only to be penalized 15 yards for an infraction and then Komic kicked to Washington in midfield. New Castle had the ball in their possession on their own 10-yard line as the third period closed.

Kneram Scores on Pass At the start of the fourth and final period Johnson replaced McGlumphy at quarterback for Washington. Komic punted to Giles on the New Castle 43-yard line. It was a free catch, and Washington elected to kick the ball right back to New Castle. Giles booted the ball to Komic who came back 25 yards before being brought down.

New Castle tried a pass with Nickum slipping one to Lane but it was no good. New Castle drew a 15-yard penalty for holding. Komic booted one out of bounds on the New Castle 30-yard line.

Barr and Giles picked up about four yards between them. Giles then led about 17 yards on an attempted pass. It was New Castle's ball on the New Castle 49-yard line. Nickum flipped a pass to Freddy Lane good for 25 yards. It was a pretty pass that caught Washington sleeping, on the right side of the line. This put New Castle in scoring position again on the Washington 27-yard line. Ridley fumbled and Lewis recovered for Washington. On the first play Barr fumbled and Raskowski recovered for New Castle on the 35-yard line.

Beautiful Forward Pass Nickum stepped back about 10 yards and let fly a beautiful pass that sailed into the outstretched arms of George "Red" Kneram, who had sped over near the goal line. Kneram made a sure catch of the ball and reeled over the goal line on one of the prettiest passes and receiving jobs pulled off at Taggart field for many a day. It brought the house down, literally speaking. Washington was looking for Lane to make the catch and never figured on Kneram. A smart play on the part of Quarterback Ridley. Nickum booted the extra point with ease for 13 points.

There was not much time left. The Bridenbaughmen kicked off to Washington and after a few plays at the line Campbell of Washington booted to New Castle in midfield. New Castle with Nickum and Komic carrying the ball started another steady march down the field and were on the Washington 30-yard line when the game ended.

Thirteen First Downs Just in keeping with the "hoodoo day" of the "Red Hurricane" scoring 13 points, the Big New Castle "Red Hurricane" tallied 13 first downs to two for the Little Presidents. New Castle had nine the first half and only four the second half. Washington did not make a first down in the whole second half of the game.

In the pass department New Castle threw three passes and made good two of them, one for a touchdown. Washington high tried five passes and made good one of them. New Castle was penalized 40 yards. Washington drew but 10 yards in penalties.

Raskowski Fine, the big New Castle left guard, was in the game up to his ears. He was making plenty of nice tackles and led the interference on several of the gains ripped off by the New Castle backs. The Shelloys brothers and Howley were fine in the line. Their play kept New Castle right in the game.

The ends, Hitchens and Kneram worked nicely. Taking it all in all, New Castle looked pretty good, but Washington was out to win, and while they didn't even score, they tossed a few bombshells into the New Castle camp. Giles, Campbell, Sorice and Tucci looked the best in the visitors' lineup.

Next week New Castle will go to Turtle Creek high for their third class AA engagement.

Seven Other A. A. U. Slugs Feats Carded For Castle Bowl

SEVERAL LOCAL BOXERS TO SCRAP

Anytime an Amateur Athletic union better steps into a ring the fans can expect a tale of action and as only 48 hours remain until Ray Atkinson and Custy Mortini crawl through the ropes at Castle bowl to settle the question of supremacy fans and fanettes are looking forward to a spectacular fight. They and 14 other battles are docketed for eight bouts beginning at 8:30 p. m. Monday night.

Atkinson and Mortini crawled from beneath the arduous task of heavy training today and from now on they will confine their preparatory work to a jaunt along a dirt road, rope skipping and shadow boxing. Both are reported to be near the weight agreed upon, 140 pounds and with fans worked up into a frenzy there'll be plenty of excitement when they exchange punches.

Atkinson has won practically all his fights. He demonstrated his ability when he knocked out Tony Adams and beat Steve Nicklich at Ellwood. Custy took the lightweight championship of the Farrell tourney and since then beat Nick Rossi and Chuck Arkett here.

The next to the last bout will find George Rocco, the hairy chested, heavy first brother of Emmett, exchanging punches with Keith Good-ballet, a southpaw of East Liverpool. Keith proved a rugged battler and tough as hickory when he met Tony Cerra at Ellwood City. If Rocco can dispose of Keith there's no telling, he may be matched to box one of the nation's greatest amateurs here. He has turned over several fighters quite easy, in fact, they proved so easy that George scarcely raised a perspiration.

There'll be other bouts that will chase the fans into Jordan, as follows: Joey Evans vs. Middle Devin; Harold Richardson vs. Johnny Backer; Billy Plummer vs. Frankie Ralich; Walter Burns vs. Young DeMott; Red Cynoskey vs. Mike Oercheck and Eddie Owens vs. Del Prinz.

The heaters will operate Monday night at the bowl, a furnace concern New Castle having been put to work there today.

Geneva Wins Hard Game From Titans

Robbins Pulls Feature Run Of 85 Yards After Taking Pass From Grahame

Westminster Played Hard Football, Tire Out In Second Half Of Battle

(Special To The News.) BEAVER FALLS, Pa., Oct. 14.—Westminster college played hard football here last night and forced Geneva to the limit despite a 20-0 score which would indicate an easy game.

The Titans battled the Covenanters to a standstill for almost the entire first half, but just at the end of the half Grahame's forward to Begolly scored, giving Geneva's a 7-0 lead.

Again in the third quarter the Titans forced the game and held the Covenanters scoreless. The fourth period saw two scores when Robbins caught a pass from Grahame back in punt formation near his own goal line and raced 85 yards. Grahame stood on his own 6-yard line and Robbins caught the ball on the 15.

Toward the end of the last quarter Johnston rounded end from the Titan 27-yard line and scored.

Some idea of the bitter battle can be gained by the fact that Westminster made 11 first downs to 13 by Geneva. Geneva completed six out of 17 forward attempts and Westminster completed five out of 17.

The Titans recovered three of Geneva's four fumbles.

(International News Service)
BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Oct. 14.—What in other years might have been regarded as a workout for Notre Dame looms today as a real football battle with Indiana's one team variety eleven all set to give the fighting Irish their second trial of the season.

MOTOR SHARES

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—Another wide open break in the grain markets brought further selling into stocks today resulting in losses of 1 to more than 2 points in the pivotal issues.

Gold shares were again subjected to pressure with Alaska Juneau, McIntyre, Dome, and United States Smelting dipping from fractions to 2 points. The price of gold declined nearly $1 an ounce in the London market today. At the same time the gold value of the dollar advanced more than half a cent today on top of a 3 cent gain yesterday.

United States Steel was again singled out for liquidation losing about 3 points to touch a new low on the movement.

Motor shares were sold freely and General Motors, Chrysler, Nash and the auto accessory shares suffered losses running to a point.

National Distillers and the other liquor shares including Schenley and Commercial Solvents were offered freely by traders who had bought about ten days ago, and lost from 1 to nearly 3 points.

Utility stocks, on the whole, displayed a better tone than the rest of the list. Railroad shares, though, were easy.

Among the higher priced specialties Allied Chemical, Celanese, and Western Union were moderately lower.

What Will Repeal Bring to Uncle Sam's Purse?

The Federal government is all set to collect handsomely when the states ratify Prohibition repeal and that will be its main job, according to Ugo J. A. Carusi, Justice Department specialist. Senator Pat Harrison estimates that liquor will yield $500,000,000 annually to the U. S. Treasury, while Budget Director Lewis
W. Douglas figures the harvest as between $350,000,000 and $400,000,000. The last pre-prohibition total was $483,000,000.

Securities Valued At $35,000,000 Bought Up In Open Market

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—Federal Reserve banks for the week ending Oct. 11 continued to buy government securities in the open market at the rate of $35,000,000 a week. Figures available today showed that total holdings of government securities were $2,344,000,000 an increase of $493,000,000 in a year, as a part of the administration program to inflate credit.

Reports have been persistent that the rates of buying would be speeded up to possibly $50,000,000 or more a week, but officials indicated that the open market operations would depend upon conditions existing from week to week.
